

James Stines
President & Managing Partner
HAUSER

James Stines is President & Managing Partner of HAUSER. James is responsible for HAUSER's over-all strategy and firm management. He oversees the brokerage and consulting practice's annual and long-term business and financial results, as well as the development and execution of the practice's strategic, financial and operational plans and policies.

James formerly served as President of Employee Benefits. Prior to joining Hauser in 2007, James spent five years in various leadership positions with Humana Inc., including Corporate Vice President Sales, Director of Sales, and Corporate Director of Pharmacy & Clinical Sales. James spent five years with Catalina Marketing as Sales Director following seven years in management at General Mills.