

Morgan Sandell
Capability Manager, Stop Loss Product
Optum

Morgan Sandell, Capability Manager Stop Loss Product, Optum Morgan joined the Optum Stop Loss team as an Underwriting Operations Manager in 2019. Since then, she has transitioned into the Product Manager role with a primary responsibility of overseeing the planning and analysis of internal system enhancements and leading projects structured around improvement initiatives. Morgan also monitors, evaluates and recommends appropriate actions using performance and operational metrics to aid in solution planning and business development. Additionally, she will recommend timely changes to product features and sales support materials through market research and ongoing analysis of sales results in light of changing market conditions. Morgan works to consistently provide thorough reporting and data analysis for executive leadership by providing insights and developing strategy plans.