

Brian Shonat
Senior Vice President, Business Development
Navion (Formerly AlignRx)

As a pharmacy benefit consultant with Navion Brian brings a unique perspective and unwavering passion to his work in the healthcare space. As a hemophiliac, Brian has experienced the challenges of inaccessible and unaffordable healthcare firsthand, which fuels his dedication to providing solutions that ignite positive change. His personal experience makes him a natural advocate for Navion's mission.

Over the past ten years, Brian has demonstrated a proven ability to connect clients with innovative technology, solutions, and consulting services that drive success and growth for businesses while lowering healthcare costs for patients.

At Navion, Brian cultivates key relationships with Benefit Consultants, TPAs, Captives, and Employer Groups by understanding their pain points and leveraging the expertise and services at Navion to bring savings and more positive healthcare experiences to those they serve. He envisions Navion as the solution to the many broken or overcomplicated layers of the pharmacy industry, striving to eliminate problems and help people live better, healthier lives.

As Navion continues to reduce pharmacy costs for clients, Brian takes pride in enabling them to invest their savings back into their businesses and people, fostering growth and positive change in the industry.
